

All the way to Tibet for a successful spiral pasta commissioning!

Detail Introduction :

Our engineers traveled to Tibet to install and fine-tune a spiral macaroni production line for our customer.

From extrusion to cutting, every detail was carefully adjusted to ensure smooth operation, uniform shape, and stable output.

Despite the high-altitude environment, the machine performed efficiently and reliably, and the customer was highly satisfied with the final result.